An opportunity now exists for a suitably qualified and committed individual to take up the role of Communications Specialist within the Transparency function of the Department of Justice.

It is envisaged that similar vacancies may arise in other Government Departments in the future. As such, applicants who are successful in this competition will be placed on a panel, in order of merit, which may be drawn upon to fill future roles.

This is an excellent opportunity for suitably qualified individuals to shape the creative practices within the employing organisation.

The Civil Service

The Irish Civil Service is a large complex organisation employing over 37,000 people in approximately 40 Government Departments and offices and a range of other bodies.

Every day the Civil Service makes a vital contribution to Irish life. Everything the Civil Service does - from carrying out the work of Government to delivering frontline public services - impacts Ireland in some way.

Improving communications capacity across Government Departments is a key enabler to ensure effective policy implementation and strong public understanding of the work being carried out by Civil Servants in delivering for the people of Ireland.

Department of Justice

The Department of Justice has overall responsibility for public policy and administration in respect of criminal justice, public safety, civil and family law, national security, and immigration. The vision of the Department of Justice as out in its Strategy Statement 2021-2023, is for “a safe, fair and inclusive Ireland” achieved through working together with the Department’s values to advance community and national security, promote justice and safeguard human rights.

The Department employs over 2,700 people directly and has responsibility for the Justice sector, with overall 25,000 staff and a budget of €3 billion.

The following areas are included in the Department’s remit:

- Policing and national security
- Developing evidence based policy in areas such as crime prevention, recidivism, community safety, border management and immigration, amongst others
- Drafting civil and criminal legislation, including transposing EU and international conventions
- Providing an immigration service
- Leading whole of government action on various strategies.

In line with its role in managing immigration and border control (including the Common Travel Area), police and judicial cooperation, extradition, and inputs to the Northern Ireland peace process, the Department plays an important role in the arrangements agreed at EU level to give effect to the United Kingdom's exit from the European Union. It is also supporting the cross Government response to the Covid-19 public health pandemic.

Operating either directly under its aegis, or at one remove, are a number of the key institutions of State – including An Garda Síochána, the Courts Service, and the Irish Prison Service. A number of oversight, inspection and regulatory bodies have also been established including the Policing Authority, the Garda Síochána Ombudsman Commission, the Garda Inspectorate, the Data Protection Commission, the Inspector of Prisons and the Legal Services Regulatory Authority. A range of other important responsibilities are also exercised by approximately 25 bodies under the aegis of the Department (Agencies/Offices). The Department leads strategic direction across the sector. Producing high quality and timely legislation to support and drive change is a key lever to achieve this and, annually, the Department manages the largest volume of draft legislation by Government Departments.

Department Structure

In 2019 the Department undertook a fundamental transformation of its structures and ways of working. This has been generally acknowledged as the most fundamental restructuring of a Government Department undertaken since the foundation of the state.

As part of this new structure, the Department has been reorganised into two operational pillars: 'Civil Justice' and 'Criminal Justice', each headed by a Deputy Secretary, supported by a central pillar incorporating Corporate, IMT, EU and Transparency functions. The Secretary General chairs a Department Board dealing with strategic direction and the Management Board overseeing the work of the Department which comprises all heads of function.

Our mission in the Department of Justice is to work for a safe, fair and inclusive Ireland. We do this by striving to maintain community and national security, promote justice and equity, and safeguard human rights and fundamental freedoms consistent with the common good. Working with colleagues across the Civil Service we work to serve the State and the people of Ireland by offering objective and evidence-informed advice to Government, responding to developments and delivering Government objectives while striving to achieve optimal outcomes in the long-term national interest and serving citizens and stakeholders efficiently, equally and with respect, in a system that is open, transparent and accountable.

Further details about the Department and its work may be found on its website here: <http://www.justice.ie>

The Application Process

Applications must be made through an online database which Human Resources Division in the Department of Justice is using to manage this competition. Instructions as to how to apply on the online competition are below. The instructions provide a step-by-step guide and explain to candidates how to register for the competition and how to upload their application form.

In order to initially access and register on the relevant competition database, applicants will require a competition password (case-sensitive). Applicants will be prompted to create their own username and password, thereafter. Please note that members of the competition team in Human Resources Division are in a position to view the password selected by candidates. As such officers should ensure that passwords are appropriate to a working environment. Use of inappropriate passwords may result in the disqualification of candidates.

Applicants should note that a new login profile must be created for each different Departmental competition that a potential applicant wishes to enter. Therefore, any previous password and username used by an applicant in relation to a previous Departmental competition is not valid for this competition.

Applicants are required, at registration stage, to nominate an e-mail address for receipt of competition notifications and correspondence. The automated e-mails which issue from the online competition database will issue to a candidate's nominated e-mail address. The obligation is on the candidate to supply appropriate contact details as this is the only means by which we will communicate with applicants.

Failure by a candidate to access or read a message sent to their nominated e-mail address does not constitute a basis to seek to postpone or reschedule a component of the selection process, to seek a review of a decision or action in relation to your application, or otherwise be considered in the context of this competition.

Deadline for Applications

Applications must be submitted online not later than 3pm (Dublin time) on 18/01/2022. The onus is on applicants to ensure that they have correctly submitted their applications. Applicants must complete and submit one application only.

Application Forms must be submitted using Microsoft Word only. Applications using another programme, such as '.pdf', will not be accepted.

Human Resources Division's experience is that some applicants leave both registering and/or submitting their application until the last day or indeed the last few minutes before a competition deadline. This invariably leads to a number of applications being received late. Applicants are strongly advised to submit their applications as early as possible to avoid any difficulties with applying in time. In the interest of fairness to all applicants, late applications will not be accepted in any circumstances. This policy is strictly applied.

4.3 The Application Form

The Application Form must be typed. It comprises two sections, as follows:

- Section A – Curriculum Vitae, to include educational qualifications and career history
- Section B – Specific examples (of not more than 400 words per example, in the space provided) setting out experience and/or achievement and demonstrating how the candidate has displayed each of the 4 attributes/areas of experience identified as required for the role Communications Specialist

The Selection Process

The selection process will take the form of an interview, the overall focus of which will be to assess each candidate on the basis of their career and experience to date in terms of the requirements/desirable competencies to successfully undertake the job.

Candidates shortlisted for interview will be required to give a presentation at interview stage.

While a candidate may meet the eligibility requirements of the competition, if the numbers applying for the position are such that it would not be practical to interview everyone, the Department of Justice may decide that a smaller number will be called to the next stage of the selection process. In this respect, the Department of Justice provide for the employment of a shortlisting process to select a group who, based on an examination of the application forms, appear to be the most suitable for the position. This is not to suggest that other candidates are necessarily unsuitable or incapable of undertaking the job, rather that there are some candidates, who based on their application, appear to be better qualified and / or have more relevant experience.

An expert board will examine the application forms against agreed shortlisting criteria based on the requirements of the position. The shortlisting criteria may include both the essential and desirable criteria specified for the position. It is therefore in your own interest to provide a detailed and accurate account of your qualifications/ experience in your application.

It is anticipated that competitive interviews will be held as soon as possible after the closing date for receipt of applications. The onus is on candidates to make themselves available for interview at the scheduled time. It is expected to have a Communications Specialist panel in place by late January/ early February 2022. While the interview will centre around the skills and competencies set out below candidates should note that the interview will be semi-structured in nature.

Information from Sections A & B of the application form will be considered during the interviews. The competencies set out below will be used by the interview board to assess candidates and form the panel

Review Procedures

The selection process for this competition is being carried out in accordance with the principles set out in the Code of Practice for Appointment to Positions in the Civil Service and Public Service. This Code of Practice can be accessed through the Commission for Public Service Appointments website at www.cpsa.ie.

Information regarding review procedures is set out in Sections 7 and 8 of the above Code of Practice. (The two procedures are mutually exclusive. Where a formal review has taken place under Section 7 of the Code, you may not seek a further review of the same process under Section 8, other than in the most exceptional circumstances that will be determined by the Commission at its sole discretion.)

- Informal Review: Where possible, and only with the agreement of the candidate, every effort will be made to resolve any issues/complaints by way of an informal process.
- Section 7 review procedures apply in cases where a candidate is unhappy with an action or decision in relation to his/her candidature (but does not believe there was a breach of the Code of Practice).
- Section 8 review procedures apply where a candidate believes that an aspect of the process breached the CPSA's Code of Practice.

Requests for Review

Where a candidate requests a review, they should determine which procedure is appropriate to their circumstances, i.e. Informal or Formal, Section 7 or Section 8. The candidate must submit their request within the timelines specified in the Code of Practice. These timelines are restricted in order to ensure that corrective action can be taken, if necessary, without delaying the process for other candidates.

Candidates must clearly set out the grounds for review and specify the relevant Section of the Code. A request for a review may be refused if the candidate cannot support their request.

You are entitled to acknowledgement, within 3 days, of a request for formal review, and the outcome of the review must be provided to you within 25 days of receipt of the request. If it is not possible to complete the review within this time, you will be informed of the status of the review and the reasons for the delay.

Timelines for review requests are as follows

Confidentiality

Subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, 2014 applications will be treated in strict confidence.

If you have resided / studied in countries outside of the Republic of Ireland for a period of 6 months or more, it is mandatory for you to furnish a Police Clearance Certificate from those countries stating that you have no convictions recorded against you while residing there. You will need to provide a separate Police Clearance Certificate for each country you have resided in. Clearance must be dated after the date you left the country.

It is YOUR responsibility to seek security clearances in a timely fashion as they can take some time. You cannot be appointed without this information being provided and being in order.

Other important information

The Department of Justice will not be responsible for refunding any expenses incurred by candidates.

The admission of a person to a campaign, or invitation to attend an interview, is not to be taken as implying that the Department of Justice are satisfied that such person fulfils the requirements of the competition or is not disqualified by law from holding the position and does not carry a guarantee that your application will receive further consideration. It is important, therefore, for you to note that the onus is on you to ensure that you meet the eligibility requirements for the competition before attending for interview.

If you do not meet these essential entry requirements but nevertheless attend for interview you will be putting yourself to unnecessary expense.

Should the person recommended for appointment decline, or having accepted it, relinquish it or if an additional vacancy arises the Board may, at its discretion, select and recommend another person for appointment on the results of this selection process.

A panel may be formed from which future vacancies may be filled from this campaign.

Once a candidate has accepted an offer of appointment their name will be removed from the panel and no further offers of appointment will be made.

Should similar type vacancies arise elsewhere in the Civil Service candidates may be drawn from this competition.

Please note that the Review Process as set out in the Code of Practice is a separate process with specified timeframes that must be observed. Receipt of feedback is not required to invoke a review. It is not necessary for a candidate to compile a detailed case prior to invoking the review mechanism. The timeframe set out in the CPSA Code cannot be extended for any reason including the provision of feedback.
